DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.
2. Claims 1, 3-6, 9, 11-14, 17-30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Pomeranz et al (US 5800482) in view of Swanson et al (US 6428537). Pomeranz discloses an apparatus and method for linear ablation comprising a probe 64, irrigation openings 38, a sheath 44, coiled ribbon electrodes 40 (Col. 9, lines 13-17), irrigation tubing 36, a handle 12, and stiffening wire 104 (Col. 9, lines 33-34). The irrigation tube forms a loop. See Fig. 7. The device is formed of a malleable material. Pomeranz discloses a method of using the device comprising the steps of opening the heart and ablating a linear lesion within a chamber of the patient's heart (Abstract).
3. Claims 1, 5, 9, 13, 17, 22, 29, 30 differ from Pomeranz in calling for the probe body to be rigid to resist bending. Swanson teaches a device for delivering electrical energy to the heart. Swanson teaches that it is known to use catheter-based devices with surgical probes that are not catheter-based as probes allow the physician to directly apply the electrode to the tissue (Col. 24, lines 20-25). Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention to use the catheter-based device of Swanson with a probe as taught by Swanson so that the physician can directly apply the electrodes to the patient.
4. Claims 2, 7, 8, 10, 15, 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Pomeranz in view of Swanson. Claims 2, 7, 10, 15, 16 differ from Pomeranz in calling for the dimensions of the device. Where the only difference between the prior art and the claims was a recitation of relative dimensions of the claimed device and a device having the claimed relative dimensions would not perform differently than the prior art device, the claimed device was not patentably distinct from the prior art device. See MPEP 2144.04.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments filed 12/30/08 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant argues that Swanson fails to teach a rigid probe. In the cited section of Swanson, the disclosure states that the configuration of the probe embodiments can be found in application 08/949117, included by reference. The application has since been patented as US 6152920 which discloses that the probe may have a rigid shaft that cannot be bent during use (col. 10, 51-55). It is clear from this disclosure that the Swanson teaches that catheter based devices may be used with rigid probes.

Conclusion

6. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
